that route was that the larger cars could not be used there on account of the several sharp curves. This, he said, was not true, for the large cars had been run over the route during the recent severe storms, when the smaller cars could not be operated with safety.

He asked that the committee on street railways take this matter up with the proper officials and insist on service equal to that on the main line be given on the Washington street loop, where there is almost equal traffic and where crowded cars are the rule.

Alderman Scott, chairman of the committee, assured Mr. Patch that his complaint would receive due consideration and he hoped the views of the trolley officials would coincide with those expressed by the alderman. Mr.

FRICH has membership on several important committees of the council and is chairman of one of the most important—the committee on fire department—and is doing the work on the same fair, square deal scale that characterized the chairman that preceded him.

There came to the court of common council a bill from the Veteran Firemen's association to the amount of men's association, to the amount of $36, for repairs to the roof of their quarters in Church street, which was recently the home of the Konomo-Hose company. It was explained that the veterans had ordered the work and expected to pay for it, but as the treas-

On motion of Alderman Hitch, the bill was ordered returned to the Veteran Firemen's association. It was explained that the city contemplated the sale of the property after it was vacated by the hose company, but that the Veteran Firemen's association asked for its use as headquarters, and is considering the building being donated to them, which would then be given rent free, which was then in first class condition, the association would keep the premises in good repair and the occupancy would occasion no expense to the city, as the association would furnish the heat and light and keep the building in repair.

Mr. Pith said that under the circumstances he could see no valid reason why the city should pay any bill of the Veteran Firemen's association, especially as it was no part of the fire department. Before occupying the Kennecott's old house the veterans hired quarters elsewhere, and they expressed desire to take the best of care of the city property if permitted to occupy it without the payment of rental.
